Office Action Summary

Art Unit 1712

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

2. (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims ~~15~~25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Mulhaupt (5,278,257).

4. Mulhaupt teaches a composition with all the components of the composition of the instant claims used as a structural adhesive (Abstract column 1 lines 11-19). Hycar™ polymers are taught as the copolymers corresponding to component A of the instant claims (column 3 lines 24-68). Since these same polymers are the preferred polymers for component A in the instant specification, there is reason to believe they will inherently meet the glass transition temperature limitations of the instant claims. Polyphenols or aminophenols are taught as the coreactants with the polyurethane prepolymers at column 5 lines 39-42. Core/shell polymers are taught as component A at column 3 lines 13-16. Latent hardeners are taught at column 11 lines 34-39. High peel strength is taught at column 18 lines 52-61. Thus the compositions of Mulhaupt anticipate those of the instant claims.

5. Claims 26-30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
